C-ID Newsletter

Greetings! We wish you all health and harmony as the year's end draws near and Fall 2020 semester comes to an end. We look forward to continuing to provide support and assistance to California community college faculty and staff into 2021.

C-ID Updates

Online Educational Resources (OER) in C-ID Submissions

C-ID requires that a recent textbook (published within 7 years) appears on the course outline. When submitting course outlines containing OER materials to C-ID, it is possible to include a date and comments in the dialogue boxes to denote OER texts. Many local curriculum processes already include listing more than one representative text on a course outline. As always, course outline of record evaluators use their professional judgement when reviewing a course outline and its components against the C-ID descriptor. For more information about OER materials and transfer, please visit the ASCCC OERI website.

General Updates

Registration Open: 2021 Part-Time Faculty Institute

Join us for ASCCC's fifth annual Part-time Faculty Institute on February 18-19, 2021. The Part-time Institute will host a series of workshops and panels that aim to provide professional development activities, career advice and mentorship, and networking opportunities to part-time faculty in the California community colleges. This conference will focus on driving change toward equity and unity, specifically addressing the interaction of theory and praxis that many part-time faculty members find themselves navigating alone. The 2021 conference will boost discussions, voices, and representation of adjunct faculty across the state of California, both seasoned and new, and will specifically highlight contemporary issues and delightful enigmas that adjuncts face as formerly known "freeway flyers." Part-time faculty bring unique values and perspectives to college campuses, and this year's institute provides a platform for an intersectional welcoming dialogue for all.

Registration is free but space is limited at 500 attendees. More information can be found on the 2021 Part-Time Faculty Institute - Virtual Event Page.
